A State-by-State

Guide

Settlement Allocations, Agreements, Controlling Entities, and Resources

Funding for this initiative was made possible (in part) by grant no. 1H79TI083343 from SAMHSA. The views expressed in written conference materials or publications and by speakers and moderators do not necessarily reflect the official policies of the Department of Health and Human Services; nor does mention of trade names, commercial practices, or organizations imply endorsement by the U.S. Government. Please submit a TA request at www.OpioidResponseNetwork.org for additional training and educational resources

Notes About This Guide

The following state-specific guide only accounts for the $26 billion settlements with AmerisourceBergen, Cardinal Health, McKesson, and Johnson and Johnson. It does not include the other ~$28 billion dollars in settlements, such as those with CVS, Walmart, Walgreens, Allergan, etc. Those agreements are structured slightly differently, although the controlling entities responsible for distributing the funds will likely remain the same.

The “Settlement Allocations” in this guide are only approximations and should be understood as such; they do not take into account legal and other fees. The allocations were calculated by multiplying each state’s percentage of the settlement found in Exhibit F of the Master Settlement Agreement by $26 billion.

Because PAARI is explicitly referenced as an approved use of funds in the Master Settlement Agreement, our partners can apply for these funds to support their PAARI programs. Although some states have amended their agreements, whether or not “PAARI programs” are directly or indirectly referenced in each state’s agreements is included in the “PAARI Eligibility” section. (Of note: co-occurring mental health and poly-substance programming are also approved uses of funding.)

If you are a partner, please do not hesitate to request a Letter of Support from PAARI when applying for settlement funds. To learn more about becoming a partner, please attend our PAARI 101 Webinar or complete this online form here.

For more technical assistance on the Opioid Settlement Funds, PAARI is offering Opioid Settlement Fund Office Hours on the first Friday of every month. Please sign up here.

Reaching out to the controlling entities listed in this guide can be an effective way to advocate for your program and increase your chances of receiving funding. More assistance on how to do this can be found here.

“Local” entities can vary broadly. In general, those in charge are likely: mayors, city councils, select boards, county executives, etc.

When possible, use websites that states have specifically designed for their settlement funds, such as those from Ohio, North Carolina, South Carolina, Washington, etc.

About Opioid Settlement Funds

What are Opioid Settlement Funds?

On February 25, 2022, the National Prescription Opiate Litigation Plaintiffs' Executive Committee (PEC) finalized settlements totaling $26 billion with three of the nation's top wholesale pharmaceutical drug distributors, in which fifty-two states and territories and thousands of local governments across the country will receive funds for current and future opioid remediation. Approximately $28 billion in additional settlements with opioid manufacturers and retailers is forthcoming.

What entity will receive funds?

Each state has its own internal agreement on how to split the funds between local governments (cities and counties) and the state.

How will funds be distributed?

Under the master opioid settlement agreement, the majority of funds from the settlement must be used for current and future opioid remediation.

Approximately $28 billion in additional settlements with opioid manufacturers and retailers is forthcoming.

What entity will receive funds?

Each state has its own internal agreement on how to split the funds between local governments (cities and counties) and the state.

How will funds be distributed?

Under the master opioid settlement agreement, the majority of funds from the settlement must be used for current and future opioid remediation.

About Opioid Settlement Funds

What are Opioid Settlement Funds?

On February 25, 2022, the National Prescription Opiate Litigation Plaintiffs' Executive Committee (PEC) finalized settlements totaling $26 billion with three of the nation's top wholesale pharmaceutical drug distributors, in which fifty-two states and territories and thousands of local governments across the country will receive funds for current and future opioid remediation. Approximately $28 billion in additional settlements with opioid manufacturers and retailers is forthcoming.

What entity will receive funds?

Each state has its own internal agreement on how to split the funds between local governments (cities and counties) and the state.

How will funds be distributed?

Under the master opioid settlement agreement, the majority of funds from the settlement must be used for current and future opioid remediation.
